THE DYING SOLDIER.

On Buena Vista's battle field,
  A soldier dying lay;
His thoughts were on his mountain home
  Some thousand miles away.
He called his comrades to his side,
  For much had he to say,
In briefest time of those that were
  Some thousand miles away.

My father, comrades, you will tell
  About this bloody fray;
My country's standard, say to him,
  Was safe with me to-day.
I've made a pillow of it now
  On which to lay my head—
A winding sheet you'll make of it
  When I am with the dead.

I know it will grief his inmost soul,
  To think that never more
I'll set with him beneath the oak
  That shades his cottage door.
But tell the time-worn patriot,
  That remindful of his fame,
That on this bloody battle field
  I sullied not his name.

My mother's form is with me now—
  Her wails are on my ear;
As drop by drop, as flows my blood,
  So flow from her the tears;
Oh! then when you shall tell to her
  The tidings of this day,
Speak softly, comrades, softly speak
  What you may have to say.

Speak not to her in hurried tones,
  When this blighting news you hear;
The chords of life may snap to soon—
  So, comrades, have a care.
I am her only cherished child;
  But tell her that I died
Rejoicing that she taught me young
  To take my country's side.

But, comrades, there is one I fain
  Once more to look upon;
She lives upon the sloping hill
  That overlooks the lawn;
The lawn where I shall never more,
  In spring time's sunny hours,
Go forth with her in many wood
  To gather woodland flowers.

Tell her, when death was on my brow,
  And life receding fast,
Her face, her form, her parting words,
  Were with me to the last.
On Buena Vista's bloody field,
  Tell her I dying lay,
And that I knew she thought of me
  Some thousand miles away.

THE MINER'S FEARFUL RESOLVE.

A TALE OF CALIFORNIA.

BY WM. JARED HALL.

During the period of twelve years subsequent to 1848, San Francisco, California, was the theater of more startling events than probably any other city on the American continent.

This was a natural consequence attending the rapid increase of population in that city, and the flooding of the adjacent country with eager fortune hunters.—Every steamer that arrived landed hundreds, perhaps thousands, of adventurers, who came from all parts of the globe, and rushed into this land of promise like a mighty invading army, comprising among their number men and women of every character, color and profession.

There was no friendly feeling, or common sympathy expressed among them.—Avariciousness was the preponderating disposition which characterized all their movements. There appeared to be but one desire, and that was Gold! Gold! To obtain which, principles, peace and life were freely sacrificed.

If an authentic history of California, during the period alluded to, could be written, presenting in truthful colors all the dark deeds of atrocity—let them be minutely detailed, and what a book it would make! The most wild and imaginative fancy of the most prolific brain, could not surpass the truth in pictures of thrilling incidents.

We now propose to rehearse one short scene from the great Drawer of Life, as it was enacted in that city; and in doing so we would take the reader back to a dark stormy night in the month of September, 1844.

At that period there was a small frame building, conveniently located, being but a short distance from the wharf, where the steamers landed their passengers. The house was occupied as a boarding establishment, and like many others of a similar character, the bar-room constituted the most prominent feature.

The tenement was one story and a half high, and about eighteen by twenty-four feet on the ground. It stood upon four large blocks of wood, one at each corner, which raised the first floor about three feet above a pool of stagnant water, and the entrance to the building was effected by means of a dry goods box, turned down in front, answering the purpose of more convenient steps.

The lower portion of the structure contained but two apartments—a bar-room and dining hall. The latter was also used for kitchen and larder. The attic or loft was partitioned off into several small dormitories, with fragments of old canvass, hanging at the entrance, as succedaneum for doors.

The furniture of each apartment consisted of two coarse dirty blankets, spread on the bare floor, a small tick filled with straw for a pillow and one wooden stool. These articles constituted the entire accommodations of each chamber; and the price for the luxury was one dollar a night.

In one of these attic rooms, on the night to which we allude, was a man, who was walking slowly two and fro with a sad, dejected countenance. On a stool near the blanket-bed was a lamp which filled the little room with a pale flickering light, yet sufficient to reveal the expression upon the man's features.

His arms were folded, his eyes fixed in a steady gaze on the floor and his thoughts seemed busy wrapping his soul in silent, profound meditation.

His habiliments were course, his hair long and his beard thick and heavy; but his high brow, keen black eye, and finely cut lip, denoted a man of intelligence, and his movements evinced on air of refinement far above his present position.

It was evident that something unusual had befallen the man—some sudden misfortune which had taken a deep hold upon his thoughts.

Having continued his walk for some time, he halted abruptly, removed the lamp from the stool and placed it on the floor. He then seated himself, bowed his face forward in his hands, rested an elbow on either knee, and gave utterance to the following strange soliloquy:—

"Fate has followed me since the days of my childhood. At eighteen years of age I fell in love with a beautiful young lady. She was poor in worldly goods but superlatively wealthy in goodness of heart and disposition. She was a seamstress, and obtained her living by going from home in the capacity of a sewing girl. I loved her with all my youthful ardor—fondly and truly; but my parents were rich, aristocratic, and forbade our union, simply because she was poor. Opposition only served to increase our love, and we were married. Father became desperate, and cast me off. He refused me to visit my former home. Anticipating this, I had previously provided myself a situation as clerk in a store. And for a year we lived in the most perfect happiness. If I had continued there, I might have avoided these misfortunes; but the California gold fever broke uot, and everybody was going to the land of promise where they could scrape up shovel fulls of the precious metal without an effort. I caught the flattering contagion, and pictured in the future a palace home, with the luxuries of wealth, opulence and ease. Mary would sometimes lean over my shoulder, and whisper in my ear: "Better let well enough alone;" but I wanted to be rich, and imagined if I could only go and remain a few months, I should be worth even more than my father—a desideratum greatly to be desired. After many tears and entreaties, she consented to my proposal, and I left her at her father's, where she was to remain until I returned, little dreaming that I should never see her again. That was four years ago. Every expression of her features at that time is indelibly impressed upon my heart, and will never be effaced. With hopeful anticipation I came to this country, expecting to return in one year; but, O, how disappointed!

"There's no use in my thinking of what followed. I worked day and night, subsisted on the coarsest diet, and slept on the cold, damp earth, with nothing but the broad starry canopy of heaven for a covering yet with all this I could not earn enough to pay my board bill!

"A few weeks after my arrival I was taken sick, and for one year lived, God only knows how. The dogs at home fared better than I did. Finally I recovered my health, but my garments were reduced to rags, and money I had none. In this condition I worked my way back into the country, and commenced operations in the mines. Days, weeks, months and years I continued my labor incessantly, but gained nothing above a scanty subsistence. In this manner I became discouraged, and many dark thoughts entered my head—Occasionally I would hear from home, and these letters were far more precious to me than gold. O, that I had wings and could fly, how soon I would return!

"In this manner I lived till about weeks ago, when I chanced to f mp of gold sufficient in value to take me. I did not pause to consider, but ping my tools, came directly to this pl culating to take the first steamer New York. Unfortunately I found there would be no chance of leaving under ten days. Last night, while sitting in the bar-room I was robbed. I had accidentally fallen asleep on a bench, and in this condition my money was taken from me. I awo as the thief was leaving my side, and cused him of the theft, but he only drew revolver, and asserted if I repeated the words again, he would blow my brains out. I knew the man to be a professional gambler, and I knew where he lodged. There was no law which could be brought to bear in vindication of my rights, and I resolved to avenge myself. This night he dies! To-morrow there will be two O, Mary! Mary! forgive me, and may God bless you!"

Having given utterance to these words in a scarce audible tone, he arose, wrapped an old shawl around his shoulders, extinguished the lamp, and passed from the chamber.

A few moments thereafter, he was walking briskly along through a dark street in the direction of a large hotel, before which he paused and gazed earnestly around him. It was nearly midnight, yet the streets, hotels, saloons and gambling hells were thronged with people, as a steamer that evening had landed a large pile of passengers.

The man to whom we allude did not pause long, but quietly entered the hotel, and without apparently noticing any person, though the office was crowded with loungers, ascended the stairs with the air of one familiar with the locality.

The moment, however, that he had reached the landing above, he halted, gazed along the narrow hall, and listened attentively. Then drawing his cloak around him, he crept cautiously forward.

Again he paused; this time in front of a door, and he held his ear close to a crevice. In this position he could hear the labored breathing of a person apparently asleep, and carefully he tried the door.—It opened, and he stepped into the apartment. Every object was shrouded in total darkness, yet the man moved forward with a Bowie-knife grasped in his hand.

He stood by the side of the bed, yet not a muscle moved, or a nerve shook.—His lips were comprssed, his teeth set, and with a firm grasp he held the murderous weapon.

Cautiously he removed a dark lantern from his pocket, and turned it so as to afford him the means of making a fatal stroke. As the light rested upon the features of the sleeper, he started back. The movement awaked the intended victim, who gazed wildly upon the intruder.

The knife fell from the would-be assassin's hand, and exclaimed:

"My God! Mary! you here!"

A piercing scream was the response, when, springing from the bed, the two were clasped in each others arms.

This was a fortunate as well as unexpected meeting, for it not only saved the lives of two persons, but re-united h and wife, after an absence of four ye

MRS. SWISSHELM ON BABIES.—A majority of babies are to their mothers what a doll is to a little girl—something to dress—a means of displaying odds and ends of finery, and exhibiting one's tastes. If infants were treated on the principle on which a good farmer treats lambs, goslings, chickens, pigs, &c., viz: Well fed and kept warm, they would live and grow, just as well-cared for goslings live and grow; and we never knew one die. Dutch babies wear caps; and how could any lady of taste have her bady look like a Dutch baby? Just so; and Dutch babies generally live, laugh, and grow fat, are "smothered in flannel," and feathers, and kept all in "a sweat." Dutch mothers do not keep their babies for model artist exhibitions. They cover them up, keep them warm and quiet, and raise a wonderful number of sturdy boys and girls. We treated our baby on the Dutch plan, and never lost a night's sleep with her.

[K]ANSAS ADMITTED.—The Territory of Kansas was admitted as a State, on Tuesday last [und]er the Wyandott Constitution, which makes [it] a free State.

The Harrisburg Telegraph says that the [E]xpress Train on the Northern Central Railroad has been taken off, in consequence of the de[cr]ease of travel and a desire on the part of the Company [to] economize, with a view of relief from the present financial embarrassment.

CONTEMPLATED ATTACK ON FORT PICKENS.—For some time past we have been in receipt of daily intelligence of the arrangements being made by Florida troops, assisted by those of Alabama and Mississippi, for the purpose of attacking and capturing Fort Pickens, near Pensacola, Florida. This Fort is now manned by 150 men under Lieut. Slemmer, and it appears they are determined to hold the Fort as long as there is a man left. A despatch from Washington City, dated January 31st, says:—

The United States steamer Brooklyn has probably joined the United States frigate Macedonian at Pensacola. Should an attack be made on Fort Pickens, which is not now improbable, within a short time, considering the advice of parties distant from the scene, these vessels will co-operate with Lieut. Slemmer in its defence, although it is supposed here that he would be able successfully to maintain his position without additional succor.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.—It is one of the auspicious signs of the times that, in the midst of the disunion storm that is raging in the country, the Senate of the United States is proceeding calmly and soberly in the consideration of the bill for the construction of a railroad across the continent to the Pacific Ocean. Mr. Seward is right in regarding such works of internal improvement as among the strong bonds that are keeping us a united nation. And perhaps his views may be adopted by all patriotic Senators, when the present excitement subsides.

Yesterday considerable progress was made with the bill, and it is cheering to see that Senators of most opposite political views were found voting together. On one amendment we find Mr. Seward and Mr. Benjamin, Mr. Sumner and Mr. Slidell, Mr. Bigler and Mr. Baker, Mr. Hale and Mr. Sebastian, Mr. Doolittle and Mr. Hemphill—representing the extremes of Northern and Southern sentiment—voting together in harmony and in all seriousness, on a project, the early prosecution of which depends entirely on maintaining the Federal Union. Is not this a sign that these Senators still have confidence that the Union will be preserved, and that the great work on which they are legislating will inure to the common benefit of all [th]e States?

DUTY MUST BE DISCHARGED.—Daniel Webster, in the closing passage of his great argument, in 1833, demonstrating that the Constitution is not a compact between the States—the same speech of which Mr. Madison wrote to him, "it crushes nullification, and must hasten the abandonment of secession"—held this solemn, deliberate language:—

"Disorder and confusion may indeed arise; scenes of commotion and contest are threatened, and perhaps may come. With my whole heart I pray for the continuance of domestic peace and quiet of the country. I desire most ardently the restoration of affection and harmony to all its parts. I desire that every citizen of the whole country may look to this government with no other sentiment but those of grateful respect and attachment. But I cannot yield, even to kind feelings, the cause of the Constitution, the true glory of the country, and the great trust which we hold in our hands for succeeding ages. If the Constitution cannot be maintained without meeting these scenes of commotion and contest, however unwelcome, they must come. We cannot, we must not, we dare not, omit to do that which, in our judgement, the safety of the Union requires. Not regardless of consequences, [we] must meet consequences; seeing the [illegible] surround the discharge of public [duty, it must] yet be discharged."

[FR]EE PASSES.—Mr. Felton, in his report to the stockholders of the Philadelphia and Wilmington Railroad, makes some just remarks upon this subject:

We shall find, as we suppose all railroad men do, great annoyances in application for free passes. We are beset with requests for them, from morning to night, and these requests are not confined to objects of charity. Office-seekers and political adventurers likewise seem to think they have an inherent right to travel free. Applications for them come from all regions, extending from Maine to the Gulf of Mexico, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. In fact, those who think they have a right to ride free bear a large ratio to those who think they ought to [pay. It] requires no little skill and patience to [illegible] and becoming spirit, this [illegible] entitled to the courtesy of a free pass [illegible] extend it. "Coercion of the Border States."

The Baltimore American, under the above caption, most effectually disposes of the arrogant assumptions of South Carolina, in her attempted coercion of the other States—especially of the border slave States—showing most conclusively that the Palmetto State is herself doing the very thing she and her apologists deprecate on the part of the Federal government. Such an article, coming from a prominent and influential journal in a slave State—a State, too, which has suffered more in a year from the loss of fugitive slaves than all the Cotton States have suffered since the foundation of the government—is full of significance. The American says:

"The idea of employing coercion for the purpose of keeping South Carolina in the Union sets that whole State in a blaze of indignation, and, were it ever attempted, would unite the whole South as one man in her defence. And yet South Carolina is at this very moment relying upon coercion, substantially and practically, to force the Border Slave States into her project of secession. They are to be "dragged," as one of her own journalists has expressed it, into the vortex of disunion and civil war. The compulsion upon which she relies is not the less compulsion because it is not enforced at the point of the bayonet. She does not expect the Border States to follow her voluntarily; she is well aware, and freely admits, they do not desire to leave the Union, and yet she, who must not be forced to remain in the Union, even though all the rest of the States desire it, she, one solitary State, insists upon dragging others out against their wishes, against their entreaties, against their interests, and those others their best friends, whose very love and sympathies she relies upon as the means of coercion, and who must be the principal sufferers in the event of civil war. Of all the coercion that we ever heard of this is the most arrogant, the most despotic, the most unnatural, ungrateful and monstrous. Look at the recommendations in Governor Gist's Message, which proposes to shut up, within their own limits, the slave population of the Border States, to dam up this sable element of our population, with the prospect of its overwhelming the white race with a negro deluge. Did ever the most extreme Abolitionist propose a scheme more hostile and ruinous to Southern interests than that which Governor Gist recommends towards the Border Slave States? What is coercion by a Federal army compared to the blackest of coercions by which the Governor of South Carolina would force the Border Slave States to fall into the secession line and follow the Palmetto Flag?—South Carolina's whole hope of Southern Border support is based on that very idea of coercion which she regards, when applied to herself by the General Government, as reason enough for drawing the sword and letting slip the dogs of war.

"It seems to us that the whole annals of the human race do not present such an example of arrogance and presumption as this attempt of South Carolina to coerce the Border States out of the Union. If she herself desires to go out, in Heaven's name let her go. We do not desire to coerce her: we would not spill a drop of her blood even for the sake of this great Union, the only ark of civil and religious liberty on the face of the earth. And yet she seeks to "drag" us after her, at the hazard of all that makes life worth having; to "drag" us into the slaughter house of civil and servile war; to "drag" us away from a government with which we are satisfied, under which we enjoy prosperity and peace, sitting every man of us in joy and content under our own vine and fig tree; to "drag" us from this government, constructed by the wisdom and patriotism of our venerated forefathers and cemented by their heroic blood, and force us down a precipice the bottom of which no mortal eye can see. Our wishes are not to be regarded; we are not worthy even to sit in council with South Carolina upon our own fate; even Old Virginia, the land of Washington, the mother of Constitutional Liberty in America, is waved off majestically by the Charleston Mercury, when she approaches with the olive branch, and asks to be permitted to consult with South Carolina upon measures concerning their common destiny. "Ye Gods! Upon what meat doth this our Cæsar feed, that he hath grown so great?" "He doth bestride the earth like a Colossus," and we, petty borderers, must "crawl between his huge legs," and "find ourselves dishonorable graves."

"What wrongs has South Carolina suffered which the Border Slave States have not suffered in the proportion of ten to one, and what risk can she run in the Union which we must not encounter before she is in danger? Why should she assume the companionship, the leadership, the dictatorship of the Southern situation?—One would think that such States as Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee are entitled, by their institutions, their interests, their history, their intelligence, their power, their patriotism, their moderation, to be the guides and counsellors of South Carolina, in measures vital to their common welfare, instead of being "dragged" after her, like brute beasts, destitute of the faculties of reason and judgment, and not to be trusted with the exercise of their own volition."

Waterloo Defeat of Persians by Turkomans.

The latest foreign news brings intelligence of the utter rout and almost total destruction of the main wing of the Persian army, sixty-thousand strong, by the terrible Turkomans, a people of desperadoes, bands of which won such remarkable distinction during the late Italian war. The Turkomans are a nation of Tartars, originally inhabiting the Eastern shores of the Caspian Sea, but now spread, not only over Toorkistan, but Persia, Afghanistan and Asiatic Turkey. They lead a wandering life, live in tents, and are most excellent horsemen, and make brave and hardy soldiers. Against this people, who have always kept the empire in terror by their warlike and predatory habits, the Persians have been carrying on, for some time, almost a war of extermination. The Persians have hitherto been successful, and have gained several important victories; but a great battle, as a Constantinople letter to the World informs us, has just been fought by the main body of the Persian army, some 60,000 strong, and a large force of Turkomans, in which the Persians, under the Prince Hamza Mirza—the chief military officer of the empire—were utterly routed, and the greater part of the army either killed or taken prisoners. The Shah of Persia is terribly exasperated at this defeat, and publicly declares that he will tear out the bowels of Prince Hamza Mirza with his own hands, and cause to be put to death all the soldiers who may have escaped alive. It cannot yet be known what effect this defeat will have upon the Persian Empire, but it would not be surprising if it led to serious commotions, and perhaps the overthrow of the present dynasty. It is impossible, however, to calculate with any certainty the results of any such thing in the East. You never know exactly what to expect from orientals.

Gen. Scott, in a recent letter concerning West Point, says:

"I give it as my fixed opinion, that but for our graduated cadets, the war between the United States and Mexico might, and probably would, have lasted some four or five years, with, in its first half, more defeats than victories falling to our share; whereas, in less than two campaigns, we conquered a great country and a peace, without the loss of a single battle or skirmish."

The Attack on Fort Sumter.

The Philadelphia Press publishes several letters from a Charleston correspondent. Writing on the 19th, he says:

"I have been to witness the large floating battery now in course of construction on the river. This work has been carried on quietly, but with considerable energy. Its height will be sixty feet—considerably higher than Fort Sumter, which it is intended to attack. It is formed of cotton bales, and will be bound with iron. When complete it will be very formidable, and will enable the Palmettos to make the attack with comparatively little danger to themselves. Several large guns are lying ready to be placed in it. I can assure you, most positively, not from what I have gained by listening to bar room gossip, but from information derived almost directly from the very High Priests of Treason, that, in the course of a week or two, a well organized attack will be made upon Fort Sumter, on all sides simultaneously. The people are fully aware that, should Major Anderson resist, considerable loss of life must ensue; but so persuaded are they of the importance of obtaining entire control of the harbor before the inauguration of Mr. Lincoln, that I do not think they will hesitate for a single day, after their coup d'etat is thoroughly arranged, to make the attempt. There are a large number of citizens here who believe that when the attack is made, Major Anderson will immediately evacuate, and spare the shedding of blood; and though I place a far higher estimate on the gallant Major's devotion to his country, and the honor of her flag, he could not be very severely censured if he terminated the difficulty in that way. He has been left in a garrison which, well manned, would be almost impregnable, with scarcely a corporal's guard to support him. The "chivalry" knew that he has only sufficient men to work eight of his guns, and that while considerable loss must ensue to them on the one side, on the other they would have a reasonable chance of success.

The citizens of North Alabama refuse to submit to the ordinance of secession, and Mr. Yancey says that South Alabama will compel them. Ah! is there to be coercion in the case? Will not the whole of the fiery chivalry of the surrounding States rush to the rescue of North Alabama from the fury of the coercionists!—Louisville Journal.

Treadwell, of New York, on Saturday, placed in the hands of Chief Justice Taney, an affidavit charging Senators Toombs, Cobb, Floyd, Iverson, and several Congressmen, with treason and misprision of treason. Judge Taney refused to issue any process, and the clerk of the Supreme Court returned the affidavit, saying that the Chief Justice had pronounced it an improper paper.

Killed by Lightning in Winter.—On the 16th inst., the barn of James Horner, of Warwick, Bucks county, Pa., was struck by lightning during a thunder storm, and two valuable cows killed. There were eleven cows in the stable, but only the two injured. It is rather uncommon to hear of such damage by lightning in midwinter, and the ground covered with snow, as on this occasion.

At Fort Pickens there are only about eighty men to two hundred and forty guns. Lieut. Slemmer, commanding the post, has his family with him. After he had abandoned Ft. McRea, his wife went thither to procure some of his wearing apparel, and it being denied her, she indignantly left, saying she herself would man one of the guns on Fort Pickens, on her return.

The peculiarities of the female constitution and the various to which the sex is subjected, demand an occasional recourse to stimulants. It is important, however, that these shall be of a harmless nature, and at the same time accomplish the desired end. Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters is the very article. Its effects in all cases of debility are almost magical. It restores the tone of the digestive organs, infuses fresh vitality into the whole system, and gives that cheerfulness to the temperament, which is the most valuable of feminine attractions. The proprietors feel flattered from the fact that many of the most prominent medical gentlemen in the Union have bestowed encomiums upon the Bitters, the virtues of which they have frequently tested and acknowledged. There are numerous counterfeits offered for sale, all of which are destitute of merit, and positively injurious to the system.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE AMALGAMATION OF LANGUAGES.—There is a growing tendency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words of other languages, and after a while to incorporate them into our own; thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming popularized in connection with Mr. Spalding's great Headache remedy, but it will soon be used in a more general way, and the word Cephalic will become as common as Electrotype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage until they seem "native and to the manor born."

'ardly Realized.

Hi 'ad 'n 'orrible 'eadache this hafternoon, hand I stepped into the hapothecaries hand says hi to the man, "Can you hease me of an 'eadache?" "Does it hache 'ard," says 'e. "Hexceedingly," says hi, hand upon that 'e gave me a Cephalic Pill, hand 'pon me 'onor it cured me so quick that I 'ardly realized I 'ad 'ad an 'eadache.

Headache is the favorite sign by which nature makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain, and viewed in this light it may be looked on as a safeguard intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise escape attention, till too late to be remedied; and its indications should never be neglected. Headaches may be classified under two names, viz: Symptomatic and Idiopathic. Symptomatic Headache is exceedingly common and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, Gout, Rheumatism and all febrile diseases. In its nervous form it is sympathetic of disease of the stomach constituting sick headache, of hepatic disease constituting bilious headache, of worms, constipation and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterine affections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently attended with Headaches; Anaemia and plethora are also affections which frequently occasion headache. Idiopathic Headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nervous headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of apparently sound health and prostrating at once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or acerbity of temper. In most instances the pain is in the front of the head over one or both eyes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under this class may also be named Neuralgia.

For the treatment of either class of Headache the Cephalic Pills have been found a sure and safe remedy, relieving the most acute pains in a few minutes, and by its subtle power eradicating the diseases of which Headache is the unerring index.

BRIDGET.—Missus wants you to send her a box of Cephalic Glue, no, a bottle of Prepared Pills,—but I'm thinking that's not just it neither; but perhaps ye'll be afther knowing what it is. Ye see she's nigh dead and gone with the Sick Headache, and wants some more of that same as relaived her before.

Druggist.—You must mean Spalding's Cephalic Pills.

Bridget.—Och! sure now and you've sed it, here's the quarther and give me the Pills an' don't be all day about it either.

Constipation or Costiveness.

No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as Costiveness. Often originating in carelessness, or sedentary habits; it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite anxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangerous diseases, and unless early eradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the lighter evils of which costiveness is the usual attendant are Headache, Colic, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles and others of like nature, while a long train of frightful diseases such as Malignant Fevers, Abcesses, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Dyspepsia, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hysteria, Hypochondriasis, Melancholy and Insanity, first indicate their presence in the system by this alarming symptom. Not unfrequently the diseases named originate in Constipation, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is eradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations it follows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should neglect to get a box of Cephalic Pills on the first appearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expel the insidious approaches of disease and destroy this dangerous foe to human life.

A Real Blessing.

Physician.—Well, Mrs. Jones, how is that headache?

Mrs. Jones.—Gone! Doctor, all gone! the pill you sent cured me in just twenty minutes, and I wish you would send more so that I can have them handy.

Physician.—You can get them at any Druggist. Call for Cephalic Pills, I find they never fail, and I recommend them in all cases of Headache.

Mrs. Jones.—I shall send for a box directly, and shall tell all my suffering friends, for they are a real blessing.

TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SAVED.—Mr. Spalding has sold two millions of bottles of his celebrated Prepared Glue and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least ten dollars worth of broken furniture, thus making an aggregate of twenty millions of dollars reclaimed from total loss by this valuable invention. Having made his Glue a household word, he now proposes to serve the world still greater service by curing all the aching heads with his Cephalic Pills, and if they are as good as his Glue, Headaches will soon vanish away like snow in July.

Over excitement, and the mental care and anxiety incident to close attention to business or study, are among the numerous cases of Nervous Headache. The disordered state of mind and body incident to this distressing complaint is a fatal blow to all energy and ambition. Sufferers by this disorder can always obtain speedy relief from these distressing attacks by using one of the Cephalic Pills whenever the symptoms appear. It quiets the overtasked brain, and soothes the strained and jarring nerves, and relaxes the tension of the stomach which always accompanies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain.

FACT WORTH KNOWING.—Spalding's Cephalic Pills are a certain cure for Sick Headache, Bilious Headache Nervous Headache, Costiveness and General Debility.

GREAT DISCOVERY.—Among the most important of all the great medical discoveries of this age may be considered the system of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the Cephalic Pill for relief of Headache, and the use Quinine for the prevention of Fevers, either of which is a sure specific, whose benefits will be experienced by suffering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotten.

Did you ever have the Sick Headache? Do you remember the throbbing temples, the fevered brow, the loathing and disgust at the sight of food. How totally unfit you were for pleasure, conversation or study. One of the Cephalic Pills would have relieved you from all the suffering which you then experienced. For this and other purposes you should always have a box of them on hand to use as occasion requires.

By the use of these Pills the periodic attacks of Nervous or sick Headache may be prevented; and if taken at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained.

They seldom fail in removing the Nausea and Headache to which females are so subject.

They act gently upon the bowels,—removing Costiveness.

For Literary Men, Students, Delicate Females, and all persons of sedentary habits, they are valuable as a Laxative, improving the appetite, giving tone and vigor to the digestive organs, and restoring the natural elasticity and strength of the whole system.

The CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long investigation and carefully conducted experiments, having been in use many years, during which time they have prevented and relieved a vast amount of pain and suffering from Headache, whether originating in the nervous system or from a deranged state of the stomach.

They are entirely vegetable in their composition, and may be taken at all times with perfect safety without making any change of diet, and the absence of any disagreeable taste renders it easy to administer them to children.

ROHRER'S PRACTICAL CALCULATOR,

A Book of Plain Rules and Calculations for Business Operations, by Martin M. Rohrer, Practical Surveyor and Conveyancer. New Edition, published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

This work contains 204 pages, and upwards of 500 Rules and Examples, entirely and thoroughly practical, such as arise every day in the common pursuits of Business. It has already passed through a number of editions in rapid succession, and is pronounced by all classes of business men to be the handiest book of reference, pertaining to calculations, that has ever been published.

Every example in the book is worked out in full and stated in a plain manner, so that when a parallel case arises, those referring to the work will find no difficulty in solving it; in a word, the general arrangement of the CALCULATOR is simple, that any one who knows how to add, subtract, multiply and divide, can easily solve any ordinary example that arises in business, or arrive at the true result of any estimate required.

The chief aim of the author has been to eschew theory and philosophy in figures, aiming only at facts and simplicity, believing that business men care little about spending time in discussing the philosophy of rules, or the science of figures, deeming it sufficient for their purpose to be able at a moment, by reference, to arrive at the true result. The CALCULATOR differs in this respect from all other Arithmetics of the day and kindred works—it is a key to practical business calculations—it is, in the hands of the business man, what the key to mathematical works is in the hands of the teacher in the school room—it facilitates time and insures correctness.

THE WORK TREATS OF THE

Measurement of Land, of Lumber, of Brick and Brick Work, of stone and stone work, of grain and grain bins, of coal and coal bins, of wood, of solids, of liquids, of circular, square or irregular vessels, of cisterns and vats, of roofing, of plasterer's, painter's, glazier's, paver's, plumber's, paper hanger's and upholsterers' work. It treats of currency and of foreign and domestic exchange, of the decimal system, of reduction and its extended application to business, of simple and compound interest, and their entire application to business transactions, with the laws and usages governing and regulating the same, together with numerous commercial forms—of legal tender, of partial payment on notes, of banking and bank discount, of equation of payment and of partnership accounts, of assessment of taxes, of weights and measures, of square and cubic measure, of the square root and its application to business of surfaces, of excavation, and of many other important practical matters not within the scope of an advertisement to mention.

IT IS JUST THE BOOK FOR THE

Farmer, the merchant, the mechanic, the artizan, or the professional man. It has proven a valuable auxiliary to the lawyer, the justice of the peace, the conveyancer, and real estate broker, to the assessor, the banker, the clerk, to the civil engineer and the surveyor, to the carpenter and bricklayer, to the stonemason and the plasterer, to the paper hanger and upholsterer, to the paver and the tiler, &c., &c.; each and all will find it adapted to their various wants better than any book published.

Mailed (post paid) to any part of the United States, upon receipt of the money. Price of a single copy, in cloth, 60 cents, or two copies for $1,00. Bound in pocket-book form, morocco, $1,00 per copy.

CI[illegible]NS' MEETING.

A [illegible]ng of the citizens of the Boro[illegible] Altoona will be held in L[illegible]R'S HALL, on Tuesday Even[illegible]ebruary 5th, 1861, at 7 o'clo[illegible] the purpose of forming a T[illegible]o be supported at the Boro[illegible]ection. MANY.

A R[illegible]SONG.—Our attention has lately been c[illegible] fact that some interested person, o[illegible] in this place, are endeavoring to crea[illegible] feeling between the Rail Road employ[illegible] those who are not connected with the Co[illegible]hich is designed to be manifested not [illegible] coming Borough election, but to be ca[illegible] business transactions. This antagonis[illegible] to be engendered by the circulation [illegible] report that some of our citizens are gett[illegible] ticket from which all Rail Road emp[illegible] are to be excluded. Whether any man [illegible]nected with the Rail Road ever contemp[illegible]thing of the kind, we do not know to [illegible], but we are certain that we can not [illegible] man who is favorable to the formation of [illegible] ticket. The origin of, or assent to, [illegible]tion of such a ticket has been charged upo[illegible] friend down stairs, James Lowther, [illegible] requested us to thus publicly deny his [illegible] in any such transaction. A second so[illegible]ought should convince any man that such a [illegible] on the part of our merchants or business [illegible] would result to their injury, and it is likely that any of them are too short-sight[illegible] foresee it. We think that the Rail Road [illegible]yees should not be too hasty in arraying the[illegible] against their fellow citizens, at least until they have proved the correctness [illegible] report, which, as we said before, we [illegible] to be the work of designing persons. [illegible] nothing could be more injurious to the [illegible] of our town, or the social intercourse [illegible] people, than such a state of feeling, and good citizens should unite in frowning down any attempt to engender it.

SLEDDING [illegible].—A party of some six or eight couple, [illegible] a snug, warm and pleasant sled load, [illegible] town on Monday evening last, for Frees' [illegible] Inn, some place up on the Allegheny M[illegible], where they must have enjoyed thems[illegible] delightfully, if we may judge from the [illegible] they rendered us, notwithstanding the[illegible] not have an "upset," which is almost indispensable to the enjoyment of such an adve[illegible]. When we were young, it was our delig[illegible] mingle in such parties, and we feel like [illegible] "one of them" yet, although a ba[illegible] rule of society makes a bridge of our[illegible] very often. Why don't our young folks [illegible] sleighing or sledding parties every evening, [illegible] the snow remains? The next party m[illegible] an "upset" in order to beat the one [illegible] mentioned.

SALE OF A [illegible].—On Tuesday, in pursuance of a de[illegible] by the Supreme Court, in October last the Tyrone and Lock Haven Railroad was [illegible] public auction, in Philadelphia. The road is [illegible] fifty-six miles in length, including the [illegible] or lateral road thereof, about two mi[illegible] length, and commences at Tyrone, in [illegible] county, where it intersects the Pennsylva[illegible] railroad, and extends from thence to Lock H[illegible], in Centre county, where it connects with the Sunbury and Erie railroad. The lateral [illegible] extends from Milesburg to Bellefon[illegible] in C[illegible] county. The sale included the chartered rights, rents, tolls, rights of way, and every[illegible] necessary for the said road. The road [illegible] knocked down for the sum of $21,000, Mr. [illegible] M. Price, being the purchaser.

GAS FOR LOND[illegible].—For some time past we have noticed a number of cannon shaped iron concerns lying on the platform, at the depot in this place. On inquiry as to what they were intended for, we learned that they were gas receivers and belonged to some London street railway company, and that they were being filled with gas from the gas holder of the Rail Road Company, and are to be shipped to London, where the gas will be used in the street railway cars. Each of the receivers holds about 500 feet of gas.

FIRE.—We learn that a fire occurred in Hollidaysburg, last evening, which entirely consumed Lindsey's Blood Searcher Depot and endangered the Penn'a Rail Road Depot and Warehouse. The Blood Searcher Depot was owned by R. M. Lemon, Esq. The fire originated from the boiler used in preparing the medicine. We have not learned the amount of loss, but understand that Mr. L. succeeded in getting out his safe and all his books and papers.

☞ We learn that Mountain Commandery, No. 10, Knights Templer, of this place, will visit Harrisburg on the 22d of February, and participate in the ceremonies incident to raising the American flag on the Capitol, provided they receive an invitation from the committee.

On motion adjourned.

TOBACCO FOR DISEASE OF THE THROAT.—The Boston Medical and Surgical Journal makes the following observations in a review of Sir Benjamin Brodie's letter in the London Times on the "Use and Abuse of Tobacco:" "There is a local effect of tobacco, when smoked, which we have not seen mentioned, and which, in a therapeutical aspect, may be of considerable importance; we refer to its action in preventing that peculiar condition of the throat which, if neglected, is liable to terminate in follicular inflammation, or what is properly known as clergyman's sore throat. It has been said that few, if any, instances of this affection can be found to exist in those in the habit of smoking, and we know of one or two instances where it yielded at once to the potent influence of tobacco. It probably acts by allaying commencing irritation, which, if allowed to increase, would end in inflammation; and, perhaps, by counteracting any spasmodic condition of the surrounding muscles—a very natural source of trouble in this distressing disease."

SOMETHING NEW AND VALUABLE.—The Iron City Commercial College has just issued a splendid Catalogue of about one hundred pages, containing the names of the officers and students of the college, together with an amount of information which renders it a document of great importance to those interested in the cause of public education, or seeking information relative to our best and popular institutions of learning.

By this the college is shown to be in a highly prosperous condition, and fully entitled to the credit it has long enjoyed, of being the best institution of learning for the business man in the country. Copies of the catalogue, with specimens of Prof. Cowley's inimitable Penmanship, will be mailed, post-paid to any address, by inclosing five letter stamps to

JENKINS & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

☞ Send for it at once, and without delay.

DUFF'S COLLEGE, PITTSBURGH.—The following letter speaks for itself:

"Impaired health having compelled me to resign my Professorship in Penmanship in this College, I was succeeded by my associate teacher and former pupil, Mr. Wm. H. Duff, who always exhibited a high talent for this art. His twelve or thirteen pieces on exhibition at our late Fair have rarely, if ever, been equalled with the pen in this city. I am sustained in this opinion by the judges of our own and the United States Fair, at Cincinnati, who awarded him Nine First Premiums in all branches of the art. His specimens are certainly remarkable performances for so young a man, prepared, as they were, in a short time, amid the interruptions of business. JNO. S. DUNCAN.
Late Prof. of Penmanship in Duff's College, Pittsburgh, Pa.

SUDDEN DEATH.—We regret to announce the sudden death of Mr. Michael Cook, one of the best engineers on the Pennsylvania Railroad.—He was about yesterday, apparently in the enjoyment of his usual good health. After retiring to bed last night he had an attack of heart disease, or rush of blood to the head, and died about one o'clock. The deceased was an industrious man, highly esteemed by the Railroad Company and his fellow employees, and respected by all who knew him. He leaves a family to mourn his loss, who have the sincere sympathies of the entire community in the severe affliction which has thus suddenly fallen upon them.—Harrisburg Telegraph, 28th inst.

MUNITIONS OF WAR GOING EAST.—Within a few days past, several heavy artillery pieces have been sent to Philadelphia from the United States Arsenal, at Lawrenceville, near Pittsburgh. They are intended for the protection of Fort Delaware, near the the mouth of the Delaware river. A large amount of materials of war, including ball, shells, &c., have also gone East and have by this time reached their destination.

MAIL ROBBED.—We learn from the Harrisburg Patriot and Union that the mail pouch from Tyrone to Philadelphia, was stolen from the car in that place, some ten days since, and was subsequently found in a freight car near that place, cut open. The letters had all been taken out and opened, but it is not known whether they contained anything of value.

☞ Sleighing could not be better than it is in this region at the present time. The snow is between a foot and eighteen inches deep in the valleys, and from two to three feet deep on the mountains, and the weather is just the kind to make a sleighride agreeable. Every kind of cutters and animals are pressed into the service for sledding or sleighing purposes.

NOTICE.—Master Geo. Plummer, of Tyrone Division, (the Boy Orator,) will deliver a lecture before Altoona Division, Sons of Temperance of this place, on Saturday evening, February 2nd. The Members and Lady Visitors are especially requested to be present.
B. F CUSTER, Rec. Sec'y.

CHILD BURNED.—A little son of Mr. George Riley, of Gaysport, about 3 years old, was so shockingly burned, on Saturday last, by his clothes taking fire from the stove, during the temporary absence of his mother, as to cause his death on Monday.—Standard.

☞ Look at the O. O's and P. P's in another column and then call around and see the original O. P., better known as "Cheap John," who now holds forth in Esquire McClelland's old stand, on Virginia street.

LABOR-SAVING
WASHING MACHINE.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING purchased the right for Blair county, of

Tolhurst's Improved Washing Machine,

are now manufacturing them at Altoona, and intend to supply them to those persons throughout the county who desire a LABOR-SAVING MACHINE.

This machine is got up on an entirely new principle, and is considered, by those who have seen it in use, the best that has ever been brought before the public.

Among the many advantages of this machine over all others may be mentioned the following:

1st. Its simplicity of construction, making it almost impossible to get out of order.

2d. Its speed, which astonishes alike the operator and the looker on.

3rd. The facility with which it adapts itself to the bulk or quantity of clothes desired to be washed.

4th. It washes equally well the finest and lightest fabric or the coarsest and heaviest, such as bed-quilts, comforts, blankets, &c.

McMINN & DERN,
Altoona, Blair County, Pa.

We the undersigned, hereby certify that we are now using Tolhurst's Improved Washing Machine and are fully satisfied that it is a very excellent article of the kind; combining as it does great speed with little labor, and performing its work in the most satisfactory manner. We therefore cheerfully recommend it to all who desire a real labor-saving washing machine.

PECTORAL SYRUP
CURES CONSUMPTION, CURES BRONCHITIS,
CURES COLDS, CURES ASTHMA,
CURES ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.

I INVITE ATTENTION to some of the most extraordinary cures by my

PECTORAL SYRUP.

They are at home and any one who has doubts can inquire of the persons who have been cured by it.

DR. KEYSER IS PREPARED AT ANY TIME TO EXAMINE LUNGS, WITHOUT CHARGE, FOR ALL THOSE WHO NEED HIS MEDICINE.

ATTEND TO YOUR COLDS.—A case of five years standing cured by

DR. KEYSER'S
PECTORAL SYRUP.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11th, 1860.

DR. KEYSER:—My wife has been afflicted with a bad cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which for several years back had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your Pectoral Cough Syrup. I bought the first time a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine myself to a cold and cough. The medicine cured me by taking one dose.—I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire to do so.

WM. WILSON,
Alderman, Fifth Ward.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 18th, 1858.

DR. KEYSER:—Although not an advocate of Patent Medicine in general, it affords me great pleasure to recommend your Pectoral Syrup. As a medicine it is well worthy the attention of any person who may in any manner be affected with coughs, colds and hoarseness of any kind, and for the peculiar qualifications for removing all that disagreeable sensation attending a cold.

I have been more or less, in my life affected with the severest colds of hoarseness. At times my throat would become so closed as to prevent my speaking above a whisper, and by taking a few doses of the above Syrup it would relieve me entirely.

In recommending this medicine, I most unhesitatingly say that it is the best medicine I ever found, purporting to cure the above; nor should any family be without this remedy for diseases so prevalent.

Yours, most respectfully,
EDWARD J. JONES,
Cashier, Citizens' Deposit Bank.

STEUBENVILLE, O.. March 14th, 1859.

I have used Dr. Keyser's Cough Syrup for a bad cough of several years standing, and can cheerfully say it is the best medicine for the same that I have ever taken.

J. W. PRICE.

COL. PRATT AND DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.—DR. KEYSER—Dear Sir: Excuse the delay of my acknowledging the excellence of your Pectoral Syrup sooner. I take great pleasure in saying that it is all you say it is. IT KNOCKED THE NOISE OUT OF MY COUGH, and the worst one I was ever afflicted with; I have not used more than one half of the bottle, and can and do wish that all who are afflicted would give it as fair a trial as I have done, and they will be proud to say, "It is no quack medicine." I would not suffer another such an attack for any consideration, or at any cost. I am confident I can breathe more freely than I ever did. I shall always acknowledge a debt of gratitude for inventing so excellent a remedy.—You are at liberty to use my name in this regard, as you think proper. E. F. PRATT.
Messenger, Common Council, Pittsburgh, Pa.
PITTSBURG, May 11th, 1859.

N. B.—I am no stranger to my fellow citizens, and all who entertain doubts can consult me personally.
E. F. P.

READ THE TRUTH—DR. KEYSER; I have a daughter who has taken several medicines for a bad cough, who has taken several medicines for a bad cough, without benefit—among them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I purchased from you a bottle of your PECTORAL SYRUP, and before she had used half a bottle she was relieved. The second bottle cured her entirely of her cough.

JOHN DARIN,
Robison street, Allegheny.

PITTSBURG, December 31st, 1853.

A GREAT CURE BY DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP—I live in Peebles township, Allegheny county.—I had a coughing and spitting, which commenced about the 4th of February last, and continued eight months, I employed the best physicians in the country, and my cough continued unabated until early in October. At that time I was advised to try your PECTORAL SYRUP, which I did, and after I had taken one bottle I was entirely free from the coughing and spitting. I had dispaired of ever getting well, and I think it should be known that this valuable remedy will do for others what it has done in my case. JOHN C. LITTLE, Peebles township.
Witness—B. M. KERR.

PATTON township, April 14th, 1857.

A WONDERFUL CURE.—Some time ago, an old neighbor of mine was very ill with a bad cough which every one supposed to be consumption. His relatives told me he had taken every remedy they heard, of without benefit; his brother came to see him die, and all were confirmed in the belief that he could not live. I had about the third of a bottle of your Pectoral Syrup, which I gave him, and it entirely cured him, to the astonishment of all. What makes the case more remarkable, is the extreme age of the man, he being about eighty years old. I have no doubt the Pectoral saved his life. JOHN M'GINNIS.

DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP IN BLAIRSVILLE.—Please send me another supply of your valuable "Pectoral Syrup." Almost everybody around us has the cold and are inquiring for "Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup." We have sold sixteen bottles last week, and are now entirely out. Mr. Alter and Mr. P. Maher, both of Blairsville, Pa., tell us they would not be without it in their families. In fact, all who use it once want it again.
J. S. WATTERSON & SON'S.
January 30th, 1860.

ANOTHER NEW CERTIFICATE—DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.—I have been troubled with a cough and cold for several weeks—so bad was it that I could not sleep. I had the advice and prescriptions from three of the best physicians in the city, whom I could name, but do not do so. I finally procured a bottle of your Pectoral Syrup, which cured me entirely. Signed,
J. W. SIMONTON,

"STOP THAT COUGHING."—"How can I do it?"—"Go to Keyser's on Wood street and get a bottle of his Cough Pectoral, and if that don't cure you, your case must be desperate indeed." This is a specimen of the colloquy one hears almost every day in cold catching seasons of the year. As we can, from actual experiment, cheerfully concur in the adviser's admonition as above, for we have tried the "Pectoral" in a most stubborn case, with entire success. Near two weeks ago we went to Pittsburg with one of the most distressing contrary, mulish, unsubduable coughs we have ever experienced since our advent upon this mundane sphere. We coughed steadily and laboriously for one whole week, in hopes of tiring it out, but it was no go. In fact it seemed rather to improve by practice and to have acquired strength, potency and distressibility by the operation. In this state of the siege, we coughed our way to Keyser's, 140 Wood street, procured a fifty cent bottle of the Pectoral, took it according to directions, and in forty-eight hours we were master of the field, the enemy having unconditionally surrendered after a brief but unequal conflict with so formidable an adversary as Keyser's Cough Pectoral.—Brownsville Clipper, Dec. 14th, 1859.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEW JERSEY AND PENNSYLVANIA,

WOLFE'S Pure Cognac Brandy.
WOLFE'S Pure Maderie, Sherry and Port Wine.
WOLFE'S Pure Jamaica and St. Croix Rum.
WOLFE'S Pure Scotch and Irish Whisky.
ALL IN BOTTLES.

I beg leave to call the attention of the citizens of the United States to the above Wines and Liquors, imported by UDOLPHO WOLFE, of New York, whose name is familiar in every part of this country for the purity of his celebrated SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS. Mr. Wolfe, in his letter to me, speaking of the purity of his Wines and Liquors, says: "I will stake my reputation as a man, my standing as a merchant of thirty years' residence in the city of New York, that all the Brandy and Wines which I bottle are pure as imported, and of the best quality, and can be relied upon by every purchaser." Every bottle has the proprietor's name on the wax, and a fac simile of his signature of the certificate.—The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves. Read the following from the New York Courier:

ENORMOUS BUSINESS FOR ONE NEW YORK MERCHANT.—We are happy to inform our fellow-citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality. We do not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchant's extensive business, although it will well repay any stranger or citizen to visit Udolpho Wolfe's extensive warehouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22, Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases; the Brandy, some ten thousand cases—Vintages of 1836 to 1856; and ten thousand cases of Madeira, Sherry and Port Wine, Scotch and Irish Whiskey, Jamaica and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He also had three large cellars, filled with Brandy, Wine, &c., in casks, under Custom-House key, ready for bottling. Mr. Wolfe's sales of Schnapps last year amounted to one hundred and eighty thousand dozen, and we hope in less than two years he may be equally successful with his Brandies and Wines.

His business merits the patronage of every lover of his species. Private families who wish pure Wines and Liquors for medical use should send their orders direct to Mr. Wolfe, until every Apothecary in the land make up their minds to discard the poisonous stuff from their shelves, and replace it with Wolfe's pure Wines and Liquors.

We understand that Mr. Wolfe, for the accommodation of small dealers in the country, puts up assorted cases of Wines and Liquors. Such a man, and such a merchant, should be sustained against his tens of thousands of opponents in the United States, who sell nothing but imitations, ruinous alike to human health and happiness.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW, AN EXPERIENCED NURSE AND FEMALE PHYSICIAN, presents to the attention of mothers her

SOOTHING SYRUP,
FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums reducing all inflammation will allay pain and spasmodic action, and is sure to regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—never has it failed, in a single instance, to effect a cure, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "what we do know," after ten years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful nurses in New England, and has been used with never-failing success in thousands of cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause.—We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be sure—yes, absolutely sure—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world, and by G. W. Kessler and A. Roush, druggists, Altoona. Price 25 cents per bottle.

THE
ONLY DISCOVERY
Worthy of any Confidence
FOR RESTORING THE BALD AND GRAY.

Many, since the great discovery of Prof. Wood, have attempted not only to imitate his restorative, but profess to have discovered something that would produce results identical; but they have all come and gone, being carried away by the wonderful results of Prof. Wood's preparation, and have been forced to leave the field to its resistless sway.—Read the following:—

BATH, Me., April 18th, 1859.

Prof. O. J. WOOD & Co.: Gents—The letter I wrote you in 1856 concerning your valuable Hair Restorative, and which you have published in this vicinity and elsewhere, has given rise to numerous inquiries touching the facts in the case. The enquiries are, first, is it a fact of my habitation and name, as stated in the communication; second, is it true of all therein contained; third, does my hair still continue to be in good order and of natural color? To all I can and do answer invariably yes. My hair is even better than in any stage of my life for 40 years past, more soft, thrifty and better colored; the same is true of my whiskers, and the only cause why it is not generally true, is that the substance is washed off by frequent ablution of the face, when if care were used by wiping the face in close connection with the whiskers, the same result will follow as the hair. I have been in the receipt of a great number of letters from all parts of New England, asking me if my hair still continues to be good; as there is so much fraud in the manufacture and sale of various compounds as well as this, it has, no doubt, been basely imitated and been used not only without any good effect, but to absolute injury.—I have not used any of your Restorative of any account for some months, and yet my hair is as good as ever, and hundreds have examined it with surprise, as I am now 61 years old and not a gray hair in my head or on my face; and to prove this fact, I send you a lock of my hair taken off the past week. I received your favor of two quart bottles last summer, for which I am very grateful. I gave it to my friends and thereby induced them to try it, many were skeptical until after trial, and then purchased and used it with universal success. I will ask as a favor, that you send me a test by which I can discover fraud in the Restorative, sold by many, I fear, without authority from you. A pure article will insure success, and I believe where good effects do not follow, the failure is caused by the impure article, which curses the inventor of the good. I deem it my duty as heretofore, to keep you apprised of the continued effect on my hair, as I assure all who enquire of me of my unshaken opinion of its valuable results. I remain, dear sir, yours, A. C. RAYMOND.

AARONS-RUN, Ky., Nov. 30, 1858.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: Dear Sir:—I would certainly be doing you a great injustice not to make known to the world, the wonderful, as well as unexpected result I have experienced from using one bottle of your Hair Restorative. After using every kind of Restoratives extant, but without success, and finding my head nearly destitute of hair, I was finally induced to try a bottle of your Hair Restorative. Now, candor and justice compel me to announce to whoever may read this, that I now possess a new and beautiful growth of hair, which I pronounce richer and handsomer than the original was. I will therefore take occasion to recommend this invaluable remedy to ALL who may feel the necessity of it. Resp'y yours, REV. S. ALLEN BROCK.

P. S.—This testimonial of my approbation for your valuable medicine (as you are aware of) is unsolicited; but if you think it worthy a place among the rest, insert if you wish; if not destroy and say nothing.
Yours, &c., REV S. A. B.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion and retails for $3.

PROF. L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR!!

AN EFFECTIVE, SAFE AND ECONOMICAL COMPOUND,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR to its original color without dyeing, and preventing the hair from turning gray.

FOR PREVENTING BALDNESS, and curing it, when there is the least particle of vitality or recuperative energy remaining.

FOR REMOVING SCURF AND DANDRUFF, and all cutaneous affections of the Scalp.

FOR BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR, imparting to it an unequalled gloss and brilliancy, making it soft and silky in its texture and causing it to curl readily.

The great celebrity and the increasing demand for this unequalled preparation, convince the proprietor that one trial is only necessary to satisfy a discerning public of its superior qualities over any other preparation at present in use. It cleanses the head and scalp from dandruff and other cutaneous diseases, causes the hair to grow luxuriently, and gives it a rich, soft, glossy flexible appearance, and also where the hair is loosening and thining, it will give strength and vigor to the roots, and restore the growth to those parts which have become bald, causing it to yield a fresh covering of hair.

There are hundreds of ladies and gentlemen in New York who have had their hair restored by the use of this Invigorator, when all other preparations had failed. L. M. has in his possession letters innumerable testifying to the above facts, from persons of the highest respectability. It will effectually prevent the hair from turning gray until the latest period of life; and in cases where the hair has already changed its color, the use of the Invigorator will with certainty restore it to its original hue, giving it a dark, glossy appearance. As a perfume for the toilet and a Hair Restorative it is particularly recommended, having an agreeable fragrance; and the great facilities it affords in dressing the hair, which, when moist with the Invigorator can be dressed in any required form so as to preserve its place, whether plain or in curls—hence the great demand for it by the ladies as a standard toilet article which none ought to be without, as the price places it within the reach of all, being per bottle, to be had at all respectable druggists and perfumers.

L. MILLER would call the attention of Parents and Guardians to the use of the Invigorator, in cases where the childrens' Hair inclines to be weak. The use of it lays the foundation for a good head of hair, as it removes any impurities that may have become connected with the scalp, the removal of which is necessary both for the health of the child, and the future appearance of its Hair.

CAUTION.—None genuine without the fac simile LOUIS MILLER being on the outer wrapper; also, L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR, N. Y. blown in the glass.

Wholesale Depot, 56 Dey St., and sold by all the principal Merchants and Druggists throughout the world.

Liberal discount to purchasers by the quantity.

I also desire to present to the American Public my

New and Improved Instantaneous
LIQUID HAIR DYE

which after years of scientific experimenting I have brought to perfection. It dyes Black or Brown instantly without injury to the Hair or Skin, warranted the best article of the kind in existence.

Price, Only 50 Cents.

MOFFAT'S
LIFE PILLS and PHŒNIX BITTERS.

THESE MEDICINE HAVES NOW been before the public for a period of thirty years, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the globe, for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing variety of human diseases in which the

are well known to be infallible.

DYSPEPSIA, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind; FLATULENCY, Loss of Appetite, Heartburn, Headache, Restlessness, Ill Temper, Anxiety, Langour, and Melancholy, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

COSTIVENESS, by cleansing the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive within two days.

FEVERS of all kinds, by restoring the blood to a regular circulation, through the process of respiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all intestinal obstruction in others.

The Life Medicines have been known to cure RHEUMATISM permanently in three weeks, and GOUT in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of the joints.

DROPSIES of all kinds, by freeing and strengthening the kidneys and bladder; they operate most delightfully on these important organs, and hence have ever been found a certain remedy for the worst cases of GRAVEL.

Also WORMS, by dislodging from the turnings of the bowels the slimy matter to which these creatures adhere.

SCURVY, ULCERS, and INVETERATE SORES, by the perfect purity which these LIFE MEDICINES give to the blood, and all the humors.

SCORBUTIC ERUPTIONS and BAD COMPLEXIONS, by their alterative effect upon the fluids that feed the skin, and the morbid state of which occasions all eruptive complaints, sallow, cloudy, and other disagreeable complexions.

The use of these Pills for a very short time will effect an entire cure of SALT RHEUM, and a striking improvement in the clearness of the skin. COMMON COLDS and INFLUENZA will always be cured by one dose, or by two in the worst cases.

PILES.—The original proprietor of these medicines, was cured of Piles, of 35 years standing, by the use of the Life Medicines alone.

FEVER & AGUE.—For this scourge of the Western country, these medicines will be found a safe, speedy and certain remedy. Other medicines leave the system subject to a return of the disease—a cure by these medicines is permanent—try them, be satisfied, and be cured.

BILLIOUS FEVERS and LIVER COMPLAINTS.—General debility, loss of appetite and diseases of females—the medicines have been used with the most beneficial results in cases of this description:—Kings Evil and Scrofula, in its worst forms, yields to the mild yet powerful action of these remarkable Medicines. Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Nervous Complaints of all kinds, Palpitation of the Heart, Painters' Colic, are speedily cured.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.—Persons whose constitutions have become impaired by the injudicious use of Mercury, will find these medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicate from the system, all the effects of Mercury, infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparation of Sarsaparilla.

CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and stomachic preparation of Iron purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case.

In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Incipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Mismenstruation, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible.—Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from a protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested by female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and the complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise, for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Afflictions of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting anp overheating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked Diarrhœa, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently maliguant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculosis, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly afflicting them.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating the pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In intermittent Fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probaby be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of the price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to Salt River Passengers, Ho!

AS THE SUBSCRIBER WILL BE under the necessity of leaving early in November for the head waters of Salt River, in the ship UNION, which will positively sail about that time; and knowing that many of my friends will go along and will want an outfit, I take this opportunity of informing them as well as all my old friends and customers, that I have just returned from the East, where I purchased a large stock of Goods, which I am now opening at my store in North Ward, to which I invite inspection. It is the

LARGEST AND HANDSOMEST

as well as the CHEAPEST lot of Goods brought to the town this fall. The reason why I say the CHEAPEST is obvious to every reflecting mind, because as the season advances (the merchants in the east say) prices decline, therefore I have an advantage of from 20 to 25 per cent. over those who purchased early in the season, and I can and will sell cheaper than any other house in the place. Purchasers will thus at once see the propriety of at least examining my stock before buying elsewhere. My stock consists of all the newest styles of

There is no trouble from smoke as that unpleasant and often annoying exhalation is also consumed inside of the stove Neither is there any danger of flues or chimneys becoming clogged with soot or the mortar loosened by the gas arising from coal fires.

Persons wishing to purchase stoves are invited to call at the store of the subscriber, in the Masonic Temple, and examine the above stoves. JOHN SHOEMAKER,

HOSTETTER'S
STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trumpeting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be abie to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhœa, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.
